

JA Be Entrepreneurial Pilot
South Gwinnett High School
(10/2019-01/2020)

Junior Achievement (JA) of Georgia continues to empower young people to own their economic success. This is accomplished by bridging the business and education communities through its unique combination of proven experiential programs focused on business, entrepreneurship, career readiness, and financial literacy. Through the collaboration of Chick-fil-A Foundation and JA USA, the local JA of Georgia office was able to pilot the curriculum redesign of JA Be Entrepreneurial through the support of teacher, Mrs. Franchesca Thompson and students of South Gwinnett High School. These sessions came to life with the volunteer engagement of Mrs. Emma Reynolds-Middleton, Owner of Soft Skills Zone, LLC and special guest, Kathleen Spangler of Chick-fil-A Foundation Community Affairs.
